

Generation One Volunteer Safety Rules

A primary concern of Generation One, Inc. is the safety of our volunteers. Below is a list of safety rules for all volunteers to follow while in the Third Ward. Generation One requires that all group leaders go over or distribute the following rules to all attending group members before your group is allowed to start their project.

Safety Rules:

1. Remember that you are a GUEST in the Third Ward. Always use words and actions that are a positive reflection of yourself, who you came with and especially Generation One.
2. Be conscientious and help maintain the safety of those around you as well as yourself at all times.
3. Use the buddy system, do not put yourself or someone else in a position that will leave them all alone.
4. Use the proper safety equipment while at a work site.
5. Make sure that all tools are used properly and put away safely.
6. Clean up after yourself.
7. Respect the property in those homes and structures in which you are working.
8. Leave all valuables at your home, as Generation one cannot be responsible for them.
9. Know where first aid kits are and how to get help if needed.
10. Say "Please" and "Thank you" as it goes a long way.
11. Think before you complain.
12. Come with a servant's heart and have fun!

As the representative of this group I can verify that all of attending volunteers have been made aware of Generation One's Volunteer Safety Rules. By signing below our entire group agrees and will adhere to Generation One's Volunteer Safety Rules during their time with Generation One.
